

Freelance Writers

Want to write for Concrete Homes? Concrete Homes is published six times a year. Much of the content is written by freelance writers working on assignment for the magazine. Writers are paid between $100 to $300 per article, depending on the assignment. We always welcome inquiries from qualified freelance writers. Interested parties should submit a resume and photocopies of published articles to:

Concrete Homes
13581 Pond Springs Road

Suite 450

Austin, TX 78729 We regret we cannot return writing samples or unsolicited photos. We will review story proposals, but such queries should be limited to the benefits of concrete homes, new technology and design, environmental benefits, safety and durability, as well as other benefits that make concrete homes an attractive home-building alternative. Thank you for your interest in Concrete Homes magazine. We look forward to hearing from you.